

At Marmomac 2023 Franchi Umberto Marmi presents Calacatta 900:
a new excellence in marble with an elegant and contemporary identity

The Calacatta family welcomes this new variant and the Company is officially presenting it at Marmomac 2023, the international fair for the stone market.

A new material that, extracted from from Apuan quarries owned by the Company, has characteristics that will make it very soon sought after and popular among designers and interior designers.

Quality and appearance define its character of excellence: in fact, Calacatta 900 has a milky white background, is well reticulated with a wide and rich sampling of patterns created in Nature that unmistakably characterize its texture.

It is therefore a 'soft' material that is fascinating and very well matched in any context and with any style. It is particularly suitable for use as bathroom and kitchen tops, for floors and walls, interior design and decorative objects.
